Left school or thinking about leaving? Now is a good time to start thinking about your future.

Youth Transition Services (YTS) is a confidential service that can provide you with free information, help and advice. To register with YTS, all you need to do is complete this form and one of our staff will be in contact with you.

By signing this form you give us permission to store the information you provide. We will then use that information to provide you with support. This will allow us to contact organisations such as course providers, employers or government agencies on your behalf and allow those same organisations to contact us about you.

YTS is delivered across New Zealand by different providers. If you move and want support from another YTS, with your agreement your record will be transferred and the information you provided to the last YTS will be made available to your new YTS provider.

YTS is designed to offer you the very best start as you move from school to work. It is your choice whether or not you become involved with YTS and it is your choice what information you provide us.
